Welcome

Six hours of being buried alive is terrible for anyone, but for 4-day old Jane Doe in Northern India this week, that was a very significant percentage of her life. Good news in the whole tragic story is a young couple in the cemetery to bury their own child they lost, were surprised to hear a cry as they dug the grave. Rescue followed. Little Jane Doe in northern India isn't the only one on this planet to be buried alive. There are men and women of all ages living a life that might be much more compared to being buried alive than what God intended when he breathed it into us. This week our study on the Seventh Word of God's covenant speaks hope for the buried alive. Welcome to Campion.
