WELCOME

Are you ready to vote? The issues and candidates on the ballot are all hoping you give them some attention (isn't it surprising every time how many presidential hopefuls there are)? There have been 1,222 individuals who have registered to run for president, and on the ballot in the state of Colorado, there are 21 options. That's just the presidential line. What would be really helpful is if we knew the details of the future for each of these, and then could make our decision. This last word is operative. There are many decisions that aren't on the ballot, and there is one decision that matters far beyond the chatter in Washington DC. This week, would you cast your vote on the eternal? Welcome to Campion.
