WELCOME

Remember battleship that demanded the identity of the flashing the light in the darkness, then demanded it change its course? (If you aren't familiar with the story - it's part of the teaching this week.) The battleship of course knew its own authority and ability, but it was unaware and even more, ignorant of who they were telling to change course. The battleship sounds a lot, well... sounds a lot like many of us (okay, a lot like me). Could it be we know ourselves and because that is our only perspective, we don't understand the role we have with God? Or better said, God's role with us? Let's talk about that. Welcome to Champion.
