Welcome

Forbes (forbes.com) says we have been duped. We wanted it to be true and so we made it true. Forbes writer Jason Selks says that the idea of forming a habit in 21 days is a myth, especially if it is a great one. Seles defends that it is a bit harder and takes a bit longer. Bummer. Prayer and worship, family or personal, is more than a habit – they are foundations of relationships but they do take a commitment and repetition to become a part of our life. Today we begin a campus focus on spending 40 days committed to prayer and worship. While 40 days will certainly help form a habit, it will definitely form in our lives deeper relationship with the God who would rather die than live without us. Let's go together – 40 days of prayer and worship. Welcome to Campion.

Our Mission

We serve and glorify God through Christ-centered worship, individual spiritual growth, youth involvement, and community interaction.
