Welcome

Salary.com surveyed more than 15,000 moms to find out what their most time-consuming jobs are and how much time per week they spend on each. Then they applied their salary data to each job, factored in the number of hours worked including overtime, crunched all the numbers and POOF came to the annual salary of what we owe our moms... $143,102. It is safe to say, we can't afford our moms and we only have them because they don't want to be afforded. So thank you to every mom here at Campion, adopted, biological, or spiritual, that has and is impacting us in more ways than we can express or afford.
Welcome to Campion
